International Health Professional recruits to Western Australia

Health Professionals from other countries are an important part of the Western Australian health system.

Health Professionals in Western Australia deliver services that focus on early discharge, early intervention and integrated care, with rapid development in specialty areas in each Health Profession. In this dynamic and exciting health service, Health Professionals in Western Australia have greater levels of responsibility with excellent salary levels and career opportunities.

Western Australia has world class standards of health care, together with very high standards of living and is a focal point for academic and artistic pursuits along with a relaxed lifestyle. Choose between inner city living, well-spaced suburbs or rural lifestyles. Families are well serviced with schools, colleges and universities that offer a full range of learning.

Western Australia is the growth centre of the country with expansion due to rich mining and natural resources, a growing population and use of advanced technology.

The Western Australia Department of Health is keen to facilitate the entry of Health Professionals to work in Western Australia. The Australian Department of Immigration requirements to work in Australia include registration processes for some professions (Physiotherapy, Occupational Therapy, Psychology, Pharmacy and Podiatry). Information is available on the Department of Immigration website for entry requirements for all professions and the Western Australia contact can assist you to complete the processes.
